THE ROLE OF INTERNAL AUDIT IN CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

6 October 2026
09:30 to 11:30 CET

This course will cover the integral role of internal audit in supporting and enhancing corporate governance practices within organisations. Participants will explore how internal audit serves as a key component of governance frameworks by providing independent assurance, evaluating risk management practices, and ensuring compliance with governance-related laws and standards. The course will focus on how internal audit aligns its activities with governance objectives, reports effectively to boards and audit committees, and assesses the performance of governance structures and committees. Additionally, participants will gain insights into reviewing the organisation's crisis readiness and ensuring alignment of risk management frameworks with governance goals.
