Managing Directors' Liabilities Risk through Insurance

Course No 217

Today's corporate environment places a significant degree of responsibility on the roles of directors and officers of companies. The course aims to provide a comprehensive understanding on how the risks associated with these roles and responsibilities can be managed and covered by insurance.

The session will cover the various components of Directors' and Officers' liability insurance and how it can be applied in practice. Participants will learn about the type of protection available, the mechanics of the policy application in practice, and address Frequently Asked Questions and common concerns and misconceptions. It will also provide advice and tips on what to look out for when considering such insurance and how to ensure adequate protection.
