STEFAN MICALLEF

UNDERSTANDING CORPORATE RISK AND CRISIS MANAGEMENT

17 September 2025
09:00 to 12:00 CET

This course equips professionals with a clear understanding of the critical link between risk and crisis management. Participants will explore the balance between risk-taking and reward while learning to identify, prepare for, and address both foreseen and unforeseen risks that could escalate into crisis situations. Designed for individuals new to risk management and those seeking deeper insights into crisis management and recovery, this course provides practical knowledge and strategies to navigate and mitigate potential challenges effectively.
