

Content Writer / Editor

Part-Time/Freelance

The Malta Stock Exchange plc is seeking a meticulous and detail-oriented Content Writer/Editor with a strong background in financial markets and trading. This part-time or freelance position is ideal for a candidate with hands-on experience in trading, investment analysis, or capital markets research, who can produce and refine high-quality content tailored to both institutional and retail audiences. The selected candidate will be responsible for ensuring the clarity, consistency, and accuracy of all content produced by the Exchange before publication, while contributing to the development of engaging material across digital and print platforms.

Responsibilities

- Conduct in-depth research to gather accurate and up-to-date information relevant to the Maltese capital market.
- Create engaging, informative, and well-structured content for a variety of platforms, including the Exchange's website, social media channels, and publications.
- Edit and proofread content to ensure high standards of grammar, punctuation, style, and factual accuracy.
- Ensure all content adheres to the Exchange's brand identity and editorial guidelines.
- Assist in the development and execution of content strategies that support organisational goals.
- Adapt writing style to suit different target audiences, including retail investors and institutional stakeholders.
- Collaborate effectively with internal teams while also being able to work independently.
- Manage multiple assignments and meet deadlines, often under tight time constraints.
- Demonstrate exceptional attention to detail and a strong command of the English language to deliver error-free, high-quality content.

Eligibility

A bachelor's degree in finance, economics, journalism, communications, or a related field, or five+ years professional experience either as a CFA/CFP or financial journalism. Experience within the Financial industry and knowledge of SEO best practices will be considered an asset.

Key Skills

- Proven experience in financial writing, editing, or journalism—preferably within a trading, investment, or capital markets context.
- Solid understanding of trading instruments, capital market operations, and financial terminology.
- Ability to synthesise complex financial concepts into clear, accessible language.
- Strong editorial judgement, with a focus on accuracy and readability.
- Excellent time management, organisational, and communication skills.
- Familiarity with digital content creation tools and content management systems is an asset.
